SMALL GROUP TOURS

WELCOME

Welcome to this new release of our Small Group Tours brochure.

With an outstanding new selection of small group tours and exclusive voyages for you to choose from, our brochure now features a range of over 180 hand-picked wildlife holidays!

The new trips take you to some of the greatest wildlife and birdwatching spectacles on Earth! From watching tens of thousands of birds descend on Northumberland’s coastline, to walking with gorillas in the Congo, discovering Komodo dragons in Indonesia, or cruising through pristine polar landscapes in search of Arctic wildlife.

On a personal note, I’m delighted to be joining our Festival of Wildlife expedition to the Falklands and South Georgia in October 2025. On this astonishing voyage we can experience the world’s largest penguin colony in the company of an expert team of naturalists, photographers and artists. We hope that you can join us.

In February, I spent a week on our Great Whales of Mexico’s Pacific Coast trip in Baja California enjoying exceptional encounters with bottlenose dolphins, grey and humpback whales. Our Wildlife Team has also been out in the field keeping their destination and wildlife knowledge up-to-date. To name just a few of their recent recces, they’ve been to India, Zambia, Zimbabwe, Japan and Greece. If you need any advice about your wildlife travel plans, you’re in safe hands with our informed and helpful team.

Wildlife Worldwide is fortunate to have an exceptional network of professional wildlife experts at our disposal. It’s the personal attention and specialist field knowledge provided by our tour leaders, award-winning wildlife photographers, expert naturalists, and renowned television broadcasters that make the most unforgettable wildlife moments possible.

Demand for wildlife travel is higher than ever, so I warmly suggest you secure your place on our trips before they fill up.

We look forward to welcoming you on your next wildlife holiday.

OUR GROUP TOURS

Travelling as part of a small group can be hugely rewarding, allowing you to meet like-minded wildlife enthusiasts and benefit from the expertise of a naturalist tour leader. We keep groups small for the vast majority of our tours – many are limited to just six people as we believe small group size is essential for maximising good wildlife sightings. Our range of group tours also includes our highly popular Festival of Wildlife groups, plus classic safari group tours and dedicated big cat, bear and whale watching holidays.

PHOTOGRAPHY TOURS

We also offer over 70 dedicated small group Photography Tours and Workshops to suit all abilities. Our collection of holidays has been designed to offer the perfect combination of outstanding wildlife viewing, exceptional photography opportunities and expert tuition. All of our holidays are led by expert photographers, most of whom have won awards for their photography and/or work as professional photographers, and have a wealth of technical skills and field experience. For further details see our website or request our Photography Tours & Workshops Brochure.

TAILOR-MADE HOLIDAYS

In addition to arranging small group tours we excel at tailoring holidays which allow you the freedom and flexibility to travel how, when and where you want to. The vast majority of our small group trips can be offered on a private basis, either as small private group or on a tailor-made basis for individuals and couples. Contact our expert team to create a holiday to meet your exact requirements.

* All holiday prices in this brochure are based on two people sharing a room/cabin, and include flights from the UK, wildlife activities, accommodation and transfers (except where specified). Prices are correct at time of going to print. *For full details contact our expert wildlife team. Dedicated photography tours are indicated by the symbol

United Kingdom

From the vast wetlands of the Somerset Levels, to the rugged mountains of the Scottish Highlands, the UK provides refuge to a wealth of flora and fauna. Our expert-led small group tours are designed for anyone with an interest in the natural world and provide the perfect introduction to the UK's remarkable wildlife.

extensive reedbeds. On stands of wet grassland curlews, golden plovers, lapwings, redshanks, snipe and other waders are busy feeding. Perhaps the best-known – and most remarkable – bird spectacle to be seen on the Somerset Levels in winter is the immense flock of starlings which roost here, filling the sky with elaborate geometry each evening before dropping to the reeds to sleep.

Autumn in the Scottish Highlands

The Scottish Highlands are at their most dramatic in the autumn with mist lingering in the glens and red deer stags roaring in the hills. Migrating waders and geese are heading south from their Arctic breeding grounds, while golden eagles soar over mountain tops and red grouse call on the moors.

Alaska's Humpback Bubble-net Bonanza

There can be few more pulse-racing sights than a pod of ten or more whales simultaneously erupting through the surface of the ocean, mouths agape with throat grooves bulging and water cascading through baleen while thousands of fish tumble this way and that while overhead hundreds of sea birds gather to pick off the debris. Aboard our specially chartered, purpose-built vessel, we spend seven days exploring the waters of Sitka Sound and the surrounding area to maximise our interactions with humpback whales and their bubble-net feeding antics. In addition, the waters are home to others including Bigg's orcas, Dall's porpoise, Pacific white-sided dolphins and more.
